Topic-wise Objectives of the Teacher Orientation Programme:

Orientation to Teaching Different Subjects in Multilingual Contexts:

Develop an understanding of the challenges and opportunities associated with teaching in a multilingual classroom. Equip teachers with strategies to effectively communicate complex concepts to students of diverse linguistic backgrounds. Promote the integration of cultural diversity and local languages into teaching practices. Foster the ability to create an inclusive and supportive learning environment for all students, regardless of their language proficiency.

Orientation to Using Various Software:

Introduce teachers to a range of educational software tools and platforms relevant to their subject areas. Provide hands-on training to ensure teachers can confidently navigate, utilize, and integrate software into their teaching methods. Enable teachers to create engaging and interactive lessons, assessments, and learning materials using software. Develop teachers' problem-solving skills for addressing software-related challenges and troubleshooting.

Orientation to Keeping Hands-on Experiments on ICT Components:

Familiarize faculty members with fundamental concepts of Information and Communication Technology (ICT) and their relevance in education. Enable teachers to design and conduct hands-on experiments that showcase ICT principles and their practical applications. Encourage the integration of ICT components to enhance teaching and learning experiences across various subjects. Inspire teachers to innovate by combining hands-on experiments with ICT tools to promote active learning.

Orientation to Preparing Teaching-Learning Materials:

Equip teacher educators with the skills to design effective and engaging teaching materials aligned with curriculum objectives. Provide guidance on structuring lesson plans, creating visual aids, and incorporating multimedia elements. Foster the ability to develop teaching materials that cater to diverse learning styles and abilities. Raise awareness of copyright issues and fair use principles when using external resources in teaching materials.
